

Z-locker With base

Application

Various equipment options for custom configuration and practical use for different users. Discover the wide range of paint finishes available for Z-locker bodies and doors and add a pop of colour to your rooms.

Execution

- Divided into a Z-shape to turn a single unit for one person into two equal compartments for use by two people
- Unlike a conventional stacked locker, long garments can be hung up properly from the clothes rail
- Z-lockers also have shelves for bags or shoes
- Z-lockers back panels feature vents to generate air circulation and dry the locker contents evenly
- The version on a base makes rooms particularly easy to clean as there is no gap between the base and floor

Advantage

- Optimum use of limited space
- Z-shape allows long garments to be hung up
- Two equal compartments for two people in each unit
- Additional storage surface
